

COMPOSITIONS
COHERENT BY DESIGN. CREDIBLE OVER TIME.

— STRUCTURAL ADVISORY

ENGAGEMENT & INVESTMENT GUIDE

Every commitment has conditions. This guide outlines how to bring a structural lens to what your organization is seeing — from a focused screening to portfolio-level diagnosis, executive access, speaking, and executive education.

Coherent by design. Credible over time.

WHAT COMPOSITIONS EXAMINES

IS THE ORGANIZATION STRUCTURALLY ARRANGED TO DELIVER WHAT IT SAYS IT WILL?

Most organizations respond to credibility gaps with another program or better messaging. Compositions examines whether the structure can sustain the commitment — and what it costs when it cannot.

Every commitment has conditions. When investments in culture, change, brand, leadership, people, or stakeholder relationships aren't producing the credibility, adoption, trust, sustainability, or measurable return leaders expected, the issue is rarely the initiative alone or the clarity of the message.

It's often the gap between the commitment and the structural conditions required to sustain it — what the organization funds, governs, rewards, and can actually confirm through operating reality. When structure contradicts a commitment, the organization pays twice: once to fund it, and again through the cost of disbelief.

REVEAL

What the available evidence can responsibly establish — the commitment, the conditions it depends on, and where credibility is exposed.

ARCHITECT

The governance response required to close or manage the gap — ownership, decision rights, accountability, evidence requirements.

GOVERN

Ongoing structural visibility so coherence holds as the organization changes, grows, and faces new pressure.

Pricing throughout this guide reflects current standard rates and may be adjusted based on organizational scope, complexity, and timeline. This guide is prepared for senior HR, People & Communications leaders; CEOs and executive teams; and conference, association, and executive-education organizers.

— WHERE TO START

FIVE WAYS TO BRING THIS LENS TO WHAT YOU'RE SEEING

Sized to the concern and the decision in front of you — from a focused screening to a diagnosis, an executive conversation, or a room full of leaders. Not every concern needs the deepest level of analysis.

CREDIBILITY GAP SNAPSHOT™

$1,500–$2,500

PUBLIC–SIGNAL SCREENING

Objective: A bounded review of one commitment area using only what's already publicly visible — reviews, postings, public statements, external signals — to determine whether a credibility gap is likely present and whether stronger evidence is warranted.

FORMAT

Remote, asynchronous. Standard $1,500.
Expedited or expanded scope $2,500.

ANTICIPATED OUTCOME

A written Credibility Gap Snapshot Memo™ and a clear recommendation: proceed to deeper diagnosis, or hold and keep watching.

CREDIBILITY GAP BRIEFING™

$5,000–$7,500

ONE–COMMITMENT DIAGNOSIS & EXECUTIVE DECISION SUPPORT

Objective: A focused diagnosis of one defined commitment — using available internal and external evidence to examine what's reinforcing it and what's contradicting it, translated into what it means for credibility, capability, and governance.

FORMAT

Remote, bounded engagement, one commitment, one central finding.

ANTICIPATED OUTCOME

A Credibility Gap Decision Brief™ with a clear recommendation for what leadership should decide next.

THE EXECUTIVE INQUIRY

$12,500–$20,000

PRIVATE EXECUTIVE INTELLECTUAL ACCESS

Objective: A private session built around one consequential organizational question. Dana brings a disciplined structural lens into the room, introduces relevant evidence, and leads the executive team through what's repeating, where it differs, and what's currently being assumed rather than known — improving the quality of the question before leadership funds the next response.

FORMAT

A 90-minute private session, typically 8–20 leaders. A three-session Executive Inquiry Series is available starting at $40,000 for questions that need to develop over several conversations.

ANTICIPATED OUTCOME

Greater executive clarity, a sharper governing question, and a clear view of what the evidence can and can't yet establish.

SPEAKING

$10,000–$35,000

CHANGE THE QUESTION THE ROOM IS ASKING

Objective: A keynote built around the structural lens — why individually well-designed initiatives can still fail to hold, and what conditions are actually producing the outcomes an organization keeps seeing. Moves a room from asking how to get people to respond differently, toward asking what people are repeatedly being asked to operate inside.

FORMAT

45–60 minute keynote. Starting rates. Fee reflects context: association/conference $10,000; corporate keynote $15,000; private executive event $20,000; keynote plus extended executive conversation $25,000.

ANTICIPATED OUTCOME

An audience that leaves with a sharper, more useful question and language they can carry into their own leadership conversations.

EXECUTIVE EDUCATION

$20,000–$90,000+

TEACH LEADERS HOW TO SEE

Objective: A learning experience — scaled to a masterclass, a half-day intensive, or a multi-session cohort — that teaches leaders to examine pattern, distribution, shared conditions, and evidence before defaulting to another program or message. Improves the quality of the questions leaders ask before funding the next response; does not transfer the diagnostic method itself.

FORMAT

Leadership masterclass (90 min–2 hrs) through flagship executive intensive or cohort. Fee reflects format, participant seniority, and institutional use.

ANTICIPATED OUTCOME

Leaders who can distinguish an incident from a pattern and a structural question from a structural conclusion, plus a shared vocabulary the team carries forward.

Full scope documents, sample agendas, and proposal templates for each of the five engagements above are available on request.

FOR ORGANIZATIONS READY TO GO DEEPER

WHEN MORE THAN ONE COMMITMENT IS IN PLAY

The five engagements before this are where most organizations start. For concerns that span multiple commitments, or that need ongoing visibility rather than a single read, two further engagements are available.

COMMITMENT PORTFOLIO READ™

Starting at $18,000

PORTFOLIO-LEVEL STRUCTURAL DIAGNOSIS

Examines how the commitments an organization is already funding — across culture, change, brand, leadership, and people — are interacting, reinforcing, contradicting, or leaking capital as a system, rather than one initiative at a time. Standard range $24,000–$36,000; complex or multi-entity engagements $40,000+.

- A structural baseline of the commitment portfolio, in plain executive language
- Governance priorities — what requires attention first, and why
- A recommended path for ongoing monitoring, if warranted

COMMITMENT COHERENCE MONITORING™

$3,000–$6,000/mo

ONGOING TRAJECTORY MONITORING · REQUIRES A COMPLETED PORTFOLIO READ

Ongoing visibility into whether an established structural baseline is improving, holding, drifting, or deteriorating as leadership changes, priorities shift, and new commitments are made.

- Recurring signal review against your baseline
- Early identification of emerging contradictions, before they become visible externally
- Standing structural counsel for significant commitment decisions

Sustained executive access over time (Embedded Executive Advisory) and commissioned research or writing on a defined organizational question (Commissioned Inquiry) are also available on a selective basis — see page 6.

SELECTIVE & BY INQUIRY

SUSTAINED ACCESS & COMMISSIONED WORK

Two further forms of access exist outside the standard engagement path above — both selective, both scoped individually with Dana directly.

EMBEDDED EXECUTIVE ADVISORY

$15,000–$60,000+/month, depending on scope and access

Continuity of structural judgment for a CEO or executive team navigating a consequential period — noticing recurring patterns, connecting concerns being managed separately, and raising governance questions as conditions evolve. Accepted selectively: one role at a time initially, two concurrent maximum. Entered primarily through The Executive Inquiry.

COMMISSIONED INQUIRY

$5,000–$30,000, depending on format

Original, research-informed writing on a defined organizational question — an Executive Essay, Executive Discussion Paper, Provocation Paper, or Research-Informed Executive Brief. The institution commissions the question; editorial independence is non-negotiable.

WHERE TO START

WHO	SITUATION	START HERE
Any senior leader	Sees a concern from the outside; not yet ready to commit to internal evidence review	Credibility Gap Snapshot™
HR, People, or Comms leader	One defined commitment isn't holding; internal evidence is available	Credibility Gap Briefing™
CEO or executive team	A concern keeps returning to leadership conversation; about to fund another response	The Executive Inquiry
Conference or event organizer	Wants an audience to leave asking a sharper question	Speaking
Executive team or cohort	Wants the team itself asking better structural questions	Executive Education
CHRO, CEO, or ED	Multiple commitment areas underperforming simultaneously	Commitment Portfolio Read™
CHRO + CEO or ED	A structural baseline exists; leadership wants ongoing visibility	Commitment Coherence Monitoring™

ANALYZE BEFORE THE NEXT INVESTMENT. NOT AFTER.

You don't need to diagnose the problem or select the right engagement before reaching out. A short conversation is enough to determine whether — and where — this lens applies to what you're seeing. The cost of waiting isn't neutral. Every cycle the structural source goes unnamed, it compounds.
